

Was Buzz Lightyear an Internet Prophet?

Didn't ol' Buzz often say "To Infinity and Beyond?" Upon returning from the Internet Ministry Conference in Grand Rapids, MI, I got the distinct impression this is where cyberspace is going. Gaze upon an iPhone and see evidence of where it's headed. But don't wait too long, because in six months these will already be improved upon. That's how fast technology is moving.

The broadband is full and the next billion internet users (i.e. the rest of the world) will be using something very reminiscent of Star Trek gadgetry in the coming years. Much to my surprise, because ActofGraceRadio.net is literally in its infancy, we're positioned nicely to take advantage of the changes to come. The internet will not only continue to change our world, it should be changing how we look at sharing the gospel in this high-tech arena.

"@ the Rock Shop" Becoming a Web Laboratory

Last month the 804 hits in one day was a new record! Until it was eclipsed a week later by the 1199 in one day. I had a pretty strong inkling God wanted me to go in this internet radio direction but I hardly knew why, then.

I'm told "@ the Rock Shop's" type of produced audio material is what a functionally-illiterate, significantly English-speaking, story-listening world culture hungers and thirsts for. Even though the one-hour show is a clear Western commodity...all the segments from the news, to the dramas and even the characters can be reformatted into downloadable stand-alone pieces that this "new wave" of internet phone users will love to shove into their portable gigabytes. This is a great direction for our web outreach to go, but it comes down to having the cash — Anybody else wanna play?

You really don't know how much I hate this part

God's desire must be for some of us self-sufficient, independence-prone, children of His to become missionaries just to learn to rely only on Him and the generosity of some of His other kids. You know, don't you, that ActofGraceRadio.net is an affiliated missions outreach of Artists in Christian Testimony? As such I must raise support to keep doing what it is God has called me to do...I think it totally blows but I don't get to make the rules.

$1000 more dollars in monthly support is needed to move any further ahead. Is God prompting you to help with 12 bucks? Then visit the Contact Us page.

"Pastor, today's sermon reminded me of the peace of God...it passed all understanding."
"Oh, no...I'd say it reminds one of the mercies of God...I thought it would endure forever."

Etc., etcetera, &ct.

Between each weekly "@ the Rock Shop" program and this monthly newsletter I'm only able to provide snippets of what this ministry is up to and how we see God move in today's world. I do trust, however, you're actively engaged somehow in some way in reaching out to those who don't know Jesus Christ. ActofGraceRadio.net is only one small example and merely how I'm trying to do it.

The New AoGR Bookmark

How will they learn of "@ the Rock Shop" lest someone tells them? And how can they hear the show lest they know the web address? This bookmark is one way we're trying it.

What the Bible sez:

"Do not throw away this confident trust in the Lord, no matter what happens. Remember the great reward it brings you! Patient endurance is what you need now, so you will continue to do God's will. Then you will receive all that he has promised."

Hebrews 10:35,36 (NLT)

Ever heard that living the Christian life is more than just hard, it's impossible? Truth be told only one man ever got it right and that was Jesus. Who among us though hasn't gotten discouraged somewhere along the way? Why? There's no better way of life known to man than following Christ. What's up?

That stinking enemy Satan would try to steal any confidence we have in God so we'd give up, wouldn't he? The very antithesis of what Paul wrote, "For I can do everything with the help of Christ who gives me the strength I need." Philippians 4:13

The truth really is, "Not my will be done Lord" plus "No pain—no gain."
