

ActofGraceRadio Operates with 2020 Vision

To date, standard operating procedure for missions and missionaries has been to pick a place, take a Bible, preach the gospel, convert the heathen, build a church, and move on. We've called this going into all the world, haven't we? ActofGraceRadio.net sees the internet as an incredible tool for virtually going out into all the world to a predicted 2 billion users.

That's part of my vision of the 2020 future, if you will. With a committed deeper involvement coming recently from Artists in Christian Testimony, you'll begin hearing a good deal of progressive expansion from us over the coming months and, God willing, decades. Our commitment is to finding out just how big cyberspace is when an even bigger God is leading the way.

FYI-In the year AGR has been in operation hits have regularly come from Europe, Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Brazil, Ivory Coast, Ghana and all those big English-speaking places, too. Now that's what I call 2020 replication!

Step One – The Website is getting an overhaul

Our web designer now lives just across town. This means getting things changed and rearranged on the website is a whole lot faster and easier than emailing ideas back and forth.

Soon you'll see a link to our online bookstore - actually it'll be A.C.T.'s bookstore, but a smooth transition. There, one may pick from various "stand alone" segments of previous "@ the Rock Shops" like the character bits, the vignettes, and even some of the dramas. Yes, more of the playwrights I've previously featured are daily expressing willingness to play along.

"@ The Rock Shop" Adds a Round Table Confab

The "Rock Shop's - Halloween Too" edition introduced a new segment I've dubbed "Knight's Round Table." Moderated by Darko Knight, this format style affords me the luxury of exposing multiple viewpoints from a variety of speakers. And that turns out to just be good radio right there.

Thus far, Halloween and the Trinity have been Darko's discussion topics and this newest addition will serve as an alternative to "Moments Minus Mike" & "God's Kid's Using God's Gifts" from time to time. Darko's part of episodes #61 and #62 if you'd care to check him out via the AGR Archives Page.

"From dust you were made, and to dust you shall return."

"Oh no! Go check under my bed, Mommy! Someone there is either coming or going!"

Etc., etcetera, &ct.

From AGR's inception I've always wanted others to be playing in this outreach. Step 2 will seek to enlist writers of materials that are just sitting there collecting dust waiting to be made into audio book presentations from this site.

But long before I could begin dreaming like this a handful of others caught the vision and joined in where they could. I've received many wonderful blessings from free web-hosting service, top-flight computers, a car – yet ever so importantly the monthly supporters are truly the heart and soul behind getting any of this out. They're providing this ministry an essential service and PRAY.

Simon Peter returns to K.C.

The "Plaza Lights" - still a fond memory of my hometown. Gena & I anticipate seeing them again as a "Simon Peter: I Witness" encore performance is set for Thanksgiving.

What the Bible sez:

"And if Christ has not been raised, then your faith has nothing to it; you are still guilty of your sins. And those in Christ who have already died are lost. If our hope in Christ is for this life only, we should be pitied more than anyone else in the world."

1 Corinthians 15:17-19 (NCV)

Ever heard "Everyone is entitled to their own opinion"? It's part of a quote credited to Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan. The part always left off is "but not his own facts."

Have you ever been patronized while sharing your faith? Either we as believers are right about what we profess or we are idiots but is pity the best the world can offer us?

Can people be allowed an opinion contrary to the evidence for Jesus Christ unless they have better facts?

I don't want their pity. Just tell me what facts lead them to deny the Lordship of Jesus Christ in their lives. For us, however, we might like to bone up on 1 Peter 3:15 & 16.
